Think Perform Solutions

About Us

Acting as the consulting division of Think Perform, an RTO which specialises in Operational Excellence Transformation programs, Think Perform Solutions (TPS) provides world-class insight and practical strategies to organisations seeking to enhance efficiency, competitiveness and profitability.

Our Senior TPS Consultants each have over 15 years Lean and Continuous Improvement experience. In addition, our Consultants have extensive local and international experience in a variety of sectors such as assembly, heavy manufacturing, logistics, food production and warehousing.

Utilising Lean methodologies and tools as well as significant client-side and consulting experience, TPS delivers tailored solutions specific to your business needs via direct consulting as well as conducting a Lean Maturity Assessment.

TPS caters to organisations of all sizes having successfully worked with multi-nationals, government agencies and single site operations to identify areas for improvement and productivity improvement solutions which reduce waste, improve efficiencies and increase profit.

Consulting

At TPS we develop a framework for development that is customised to the needs of your organisation. Each solution considers industry influences, short and long-term challenges, management insights and input from frontline staff.

TPS's consulting approach captures insights across all levels of the organisation to capitalise on performance and productivity improvement opportunities.

TPS takes a long-term view of Operational Excellence. Our partnering approach provides specific solutions and encourages development of a culture of Continuous Improvement for sustainable results.

Lean Maturity Assessment

Regardless of an organisation's past exposure to Lean and other business improvement methodologies, TPS's Lean Maturity Assessment provides leaders a structured analysis and insight into the problems of Lean thinking and application in the workplace. Most importantly, the analysis clearly identifies opportunities for immediate improvement.

Each tool and principle is observed, scored and then applied against our supporting matrix.

The Lean Maturity Assessment concludes with a final Lean score presented as a spider graph. This spider graph is then incorporated into a report that details all improvement areas that have been identified through the process.

The Lean Maturity Assessment is comprised of 19 Lean tools and principles brought together in one document.

Time needed for the assessment varies depending upon organisation size. Generally, a TPS consultant will spend 1-2 days on site conducting the analysis. Clients will receive their comprehensive report within 48 hours. To assist with the Lean Maturity Assessment, we request the availability of a senior management member to tour the site with the TPS consultant and answer questions in order to allow the consultant to gain a thorough understanding of current product flow, visual tools and processes.

Regardless of size or industry, all organisations gains vital knowledge from the assessment about their business's strengths and weaknesses.

Most importantly, clients receive practical ideas and solutions to improve areas of underperformance and maintain areas of strength. As a result of the Lean Maturity Assessment, clients invariably report tangible ROI with increased efficiencies and reduced waste within the process.

Synergistic Transformational Program

TPS's Lean Maturity Assessment and consulting services can be used independently or in conjunction with Operational Excellence programs being delivered by the associated company, Think Perform.

Think Perform programs are customised to align with client's key goals and to help organisations become more competitive by driving cultural change and productivity gains. Think Perform's programs achieve high levels of employee engagement by working directly in your organisation with program participants one-on-one and in small groups. The key to success is in engaging all levels of an organisation and focusing on a "bottom up" approach to identifying areas for improvement.

Combining the specific insights gleaned from TPS's consulting process with Think Perform's Operational Excellence program ensures that business improvement opportunities are owned by empowered staff and leads to the sustained organisational change.
